Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil – Agriculturist & Educationist

Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil is a well-known agriculturist, educationist and philanthropist from district Kolhapur located in the state of Maharashtra. He has always dreamed of spreading education and healthcare to the masses of India and to this effect revolutionized the educational sector in Maharashtra. His vision being to make the same available to all, especially the poor and needy, and to the deprived and downtrodden section of society.

The then Hon'ble Prime Minister of India, Shri. Rajiv Gandhi prevailed upon Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil to realize that for India to maintain sustainable development and improve living standards, our people should have opportunity to secure higher education. With inspiration thus received, over a period of last 27 years Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil has established many educational institutions all over Maharashtra catering to delivering knowledge, right from primary levels to professional courses in fields of Engineering, Medicine, Dental Science, Management, Law, Food Technology, Pharmacy, Architecture, Nursing, Ayurvedic, Agriculture and Biotechnology and Sports.

He has spent time and efforts towards establishing these as centers of educational excellence and temples of modern India.

Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil has focused his energies for the cause of education, with emphasis on professional education. He is of the opinion that the education should be patterned to train the students to face the challenges and ever changing job / skill requirements on account of globalization without forgetting ethos of rich Indian culture and this is bound to transform the society and thereby make India a strong, self-supporting and leading nation. His preference is for actual implementation of his concepts rather than merely preaching. Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil always aims for perfection and automatically excellence follows. He gives less importance to himself and more to his institutions. This man of austere habits is a recipient of innumerable accolades and awards, including the most prestigious & cherished 'Padmashree' conferred on him by, the then Honorable President of India, Shri R. Venkataraman for his work in the field of education.

Padmashree Dr.D.Y.Patil also believes in the all-round development of individuals and this requires not only an intelligent mind but also a healthy body thus, to this effect he has initiated formation of D.Y.Patil Sports Academy with an area of 25 acres at Navi Mumbai. In spite of his list of accomplishments Padmashree Dr.D.Y.Patil is extremely modest. He attributes his success to the blessings of Shri. Sant Gajanan Maharaj and the desire of the almighty. He is a devout follower of Shri Satya Sai Baba. He considers himself merely an instrument of God. His prayers to the great Lord are to give him more strength and vision to go further, for Padmashree Dr. D. Y. Patil believes that many goals and achievements still remain, especially those of providing education and healthcare to the poor and needy.
